

Black Oats - Common Vetch Combination

PANAM's Genetic – Registered on French catalog
Luxurial Avena Strigosa schreb (60%) - Vicia sativa (40%)

CARACTERISTICS

- Rapid and competitive growth
- low water requirements
- Very good palatability and digestibility
- Good fodder quality
- Good biomass production
- Improve soils structure
- Luxurial is acting as a catch crop for nitrogen
- Vetch is acting as nitrogen saver
- Important production of dry matter
- Important allelopathic effect which helps to reduce weeds
- Recognized nematicide effect
- No depressive effect on maize production
- Superior economic advantage, even when the cover crop is not collected as green or grazed fodder.

MANAGEMENT TIPS

- Sowing density : 30 kg per hectare
- Implantation : Drill at depth of 1- 2.5cm
Roll to provide good seed bed